Black-n-Bluegrass RollerGirls Secure The Bank Of Kentucky Center

Highland Heights, KY - November 1st, 2011- The Black-n-Bluegrass RollerGirls of Northern Kentucky have secured The Bank of Kentucky Center for their 2012 season. The league's growth, competitive spirit and ever-increasing fan base has warranted this exciting move.

The Bank of Kentucky Center is a state-of-the-art arena located on Northern Kentucky University's campus. The 10,000 capacity arena hosts a wide variety of concerts, shows and sporting events. Roller Derby highlights female athletes in a competitive and family friendly sport, and is sure to be a great addition to The Bank of Kentucky's event lineup.

Petal to the Metal: "I am so excited for our move to the BOK center. Factors such as the sport's popularity and our own team's growth are what made the move necessary, but our skater's hard work and dedication are what made it possible. BBRG should not be underestimated on or off the track! I am really looking forward to the 2012 season in our new home."

Tiki Von Sexron: "This move will allow our fans to enjoy the sport of roller derby in a premier sporting facility. It also shows the derby community that our league is growing" and successful.”

Shaken and Stirred: “Moving to the Bank of Kentucky Center brings the sport of roller derby to a whole new level for Northern Kentucky, it opens the sport up to an entire new set of fans.”

Silverose: “We have worked non-stop on and off the track to make this a possibility and now it is a reality. This is the most deserving group of women who have given everything to ensure that the sport they love so much continues to grow.”

Rosie the Riv-hit-her: “Being new to the Black-n-Bluegrass organization, the strides we have made in the past two seasons have been amazing. It shows how much our league is growing, how our fan base is growing and how roller derby is growing in general”.

The Black-n-Bluegrass RollerGirls are proud to call The Bank of Kentucky Center our New Kentucky Home. Join us in May 2012 for our season opener!
